TTARA welcomes Matt Migliore to the TTARA team

Attorney Matt Migliore, who has extensive experience in tax policy, tax administration and state budget issues, will join the Texas Taxpayers and Research Association (TTARA) staff in November, TTARA announced today.

“Matt Migliore is a talented and experienced attorney with a keen appreciation of rational tax policy,” TTARA President Dale Craymer said. “He is a welcome addition to the Texas Taxpayers and Research Association family.”

Migliore most recently served as deputy director and tax policy counsel for the Texas Senate Finance Committee, where he was responsible for analyzing and advising on all legislation referred to the committee.

Previously, he was an assistant general counsel and tax policy specialist for Comptroller Susan Combs. He also has worked for private firms representing taxing entities and corporations under federal and state tax audits.

Migliore earned his law degree from the University of Houston and his bachelor's degree from The University of Texas at Austin.

The Texas Taxpayers and Research Association (TTARA) is a non-profit, non-partisan membership-supported organization of businesses and individuals interested in state and local fiscal policies in Texas and the way those policies impact our economy. TTARA members operate in every part of Texas; they employ and provide incomes to thousands of Texans; they produce or provide every type of good or service Texans consume; and, they provide a major portion of the revenue that supports public services at every level of government. TTARA has been recognized as the state's leading organization specializing in tax and fiscal policy for more than 50 years. The organization's annual meeting, held in the fall each year, features top elected leaders and government officials discussing current tax, expenditure, and other public policy issues.
